She presented a hand-out entitled, "It's about the why," to go along with her presentation.

Jane Luethge, Curriculum Specialist/AP & Dual Enrollment Coordinator, gave an update on the dual enrollment process. There are some changes in the colleges we are partnering with. For more information, you can contact Ms. Luethge or your counselor.

FRESHMAN WATER BOTTLES

Imagine a Burke High School where . . .

- We attack problems, not people
- We offer generous assumptions when we don't know yet
- We are all learners progressing on a pathway to mastery _____(teaching, customer service, leadership, etc.)
- The majority of our time talking with each other is about how to best teach and support students and each other
- We all embrace our responsibilities; understanding that there is no such thing as an unimportant job
- We work for the good of the whole rather than what's good for just me or my _____ (dept, position, team, division, etc.)
- We problem-solve through active listening and respect
- Everyone feels they belong to "We are Burke"
- We all go home feeling fulfilled and passionate about work and the service we provide
- Loyalty, Integrity, and Honor permeate our beliefs and are demonstrated through our actions

Our Why

Education is transformational

The How

By intentionally creating a positive environment where everyone's basic needs, safety and sense of belonging are met

Teachers are able to clearly articulate higher level learning goals and learning targets for students and offer rigorous and engaging instructional strategies

Everyone else is performing their job at the highest levels to support teachers, students, families and each other

Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs

ABRAHAM MASLOW HIERARCHY OF NEEDS

Maslow, A. Motivation and Personality (2nd ed.)
Harper & Row, 1970.

The What

- We
  - Feel passion for our work and respect each other
  - We leave work feeling fulfilled by the positive impact we make on the lives of our students, families and each other
- And . . .
  - Our students just happen to achieve, do great things in all kinds of endeavors, and appreciate learning.

Education is Transformational!

ACE and Dual Enrollment Changes for 17-18

ATTENTION STUDENT and FAMILIES who are in one or more Dual Enrollment eligible classes:

Each student is now limited to two total classes covered by Access College Early (ACE) Scholarship* for the whole 2017-18 school year. We are hosting registration for UNO dual enrollment on August 23-24 in the Burke Library, during the classes where students are eligible for dual enrollment, and Midland dual enrollment in AP World History classes on August 30-31. I have included a list of courses that are eligible for DE and teachers' names so you can see if your student is eligible for dual enrollment opportunities on the back of this handout. If students are in these courses, and eligible for free/reduced lunch or have a family financial hardship, they need to fill out the new FRAM and turn it in to nutrition services asap. Once they are approved for Free/Reduced Lunch for 2017-18, students/families need to choose which 2 classes they want to dual enroll with, if they can be covered by ACE or other funds that you are providing, before they apply for dual enrollment.

Cost to dual enroll:

UNO and Midland: $250 per class (If the class is an AP class, the cost of DE covers the cost of the AP test. Students must register for and take the AP test if dual enrolled, with or without ACE).

Metro: $44 per class

Please note, our partnership with Nebraska Wesleyan University, for AP Language and Composition (11th grade) has been discontinued.

*Applying for ACE doesn't guarantee award of the scholarship. When a student/family dual enrolls with any college or university, the student/parent/guardian assumes the financial responsibility of the agreement with or without scholarships being applied.
